

ONE OF THREE SENTENCES FACES MAN WHO PLEADED GUILTY TO MURDER OF HIS WIFE; EXPECT VERDICT FRIDAY

Eye-Witness Describes Fatal Attack Wilson Hall Made Against His Wife, Marie Hall, at King Farms in September — Claims Victim Appeared to be Afraid of Husband.

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 11 — The electric chair, life imprisonment or 20 years—anyone of those three sentences—is in prospect for a 33-year-old Negro laborer as his fate is to be pronounced soon by Judges Hiram H. Keller and Calvin S. Boyer.

Wilson Hall, of Englishtown, N. J., employed by a Linden (N. J.) contracting firm, is the accused who pleaded guilty to a charge of murdering his 28-year-old wife, Marie, in a fit of jealousy on September 15th.

The murder weapon was a pearl-handled knife, with which Hall slashed his wife three times in the neck, inflicting wounds that caused her death the following morning in a Trenton, N. J., hospital.

The murderous attack took place on the King's Farm near Tullytown. Clerk of Quarter Sessions Paul Nichols read the bill of indictment to the defendant after he had been arraigned on a charge of murder.

"How do you plead, guilty or not guilty?" Clerk Nichols asked the prisoner.

"Guilty," the defendant replied as he stood between his attorneys, I. Louis Rubin, of Bristol, and John DuBois, of Doylestown.

District Attorney Edward G. Blester questioned the various witnesses. The prosecutor is Chief of Bucks County Detectives Anthony Russo.

The stabbing took place in the bedroom of a small house on the King's Farm occupied by Tommie Lee Fuller, Negro bean-picker; Jennie Harris and Mrs. Hall, who had left her husband in Englishtown several days before to take a job at King's.

Lee was the first Commonwealth witness. He was an eye-witness to the attack.

"Hall came to the house on September 15th, and asked to see his wife," Lee stated. "An argument started when Mrs. Hall refused to pack up and go back to Alabama with him to live.

"Mrs. Hall seemed afraid of her husband, and Hall then said, 'Ah, hopes de Lord hits me with a streak of lightning if I hurt her.' "Mrs. Hall said to her husband, 'I'll die before I go with you,' and then I saw him raise his hand with a knife in it and slash his wife.

"I got the knife away from Hall and hit him with it on the right shoulder. Hall picked up the knife again and tried to cut me and Jennie Harris, too. Then he ran out of the house. He tossed the knife away and started running. He was captured a few minutes later."

Under cross-examination, Lee testified that Mrs. Hall came to the King's Farm on September 11th from Englishtown with Philip Hays and his wife.

The slashing took place about four p. m. on September 15th.

Lee identified the knife that was used in the slashing.

Jennie Harris, common law wife of the first witness, Lee, testified she knew Mary Hall and her husband, Mrs. Harris is a sister to Philip Hays.

"I heard Mrs. Hall cry out that her husband was going to kill her,"

THE WAR AT A GLANCE

By International News Service

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the Armistice which ended the first World War found American forces and troops of their allies pressing the enemy hard on various fronts of the present conflict today.

While the home front prepared to observe the traditional period of silence at 11 a. m., Yank fighters concentrated on observing the day by silencing for all time as many of the enemy as possible.

Attention was focused on the Solomons where United States Army troops went into action anew, while American forces battered the Germans in Italy together with their British allies, and the Russians made things hot for the Nazis on the eastern front.

Admiral William F. Halsey, commanding operations against the last major enemy stronghold in the Solomons, said that Yank dough-boys had gone ashore at Bougainville and already were fighting beside the Marines who last week established a bridgehead at Empress Augusta Bay.

The landing, made Monday, was effected without loss of a man, and greatly reinforced the Marine positions.

In one bitter fight, the American Marines defeated the enemy and killed approximately 150 Japs with only light losses to themselves. Medium bombers and fighter craft of Admiral Halsey's command gave support to the Yank ground troops, and struck at targets behind the enemy lines.

Many Japanese barges, which were used to push ashore some 600 enemy reinforcements, were blasted by the American airmen.

At least 26 enemy craft, and possibly 33, were destroyed out of a force of 60 Jap fighters and dive-bombers which sought to attack Allied shipping. Only eight Allied planes were listed as lost.

Other United Nations fliers in the Southwest Pacific heavily raided the Alexishafen airfield on New Guinea, pounded Kieta and Buaka around Bougainville, and blasted the Yankanan airfield on Rabaul.

It was no wonder then, that En-

Eight from Bucks County Freshmen at Penn State

Enrolled as first semester freshmen from Bucks County are: Morrisville: Betty R. Bodell, 1118 Crown Terrace; Gaynell A. Platt, West Acres, New Hope; Richard J. Liquor Consumers to Learn Today of Ration

By Tony Zecca
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Nov. 11—(INS)—Pennsylvania's 4,000,000 liquor consumers will learn today just how when, and how much whiskey they can buy at State stores when rationing goes into effect.

Fred T. Gelder, chairman of the Liquor Control Board, said he would announce the procedure late this afternoon at a news conference "to end all the conjecturing and predictions."

Simultaneously, the board was expected to launch a campaign against black market operators to discourage bootleg sales of rationed stocks at high prices. The board employs approximately 175 enforcement agents who work in co-operation with state and local police.

The board, in effect, has surrendered to public clamoring for rationing as a means for more equitably distributing liquor. Gov. Edward Martin early this week announced that rationing had been decided upon to satisfy the public. It will be instituted before the holidays, he said.

Today's conferences, however, indicated that rationing will be instituted soon. Gelder has said that the public will not receive advance notice about rationing. Liquor stores are closed today in observance of Armistice Day.

It was believed that War Ration Book No. 3 would be used to apportion whiskey. The board had asked the Office of Price Administration for permission to use the covers on which to stamp whatever quota is selected. Although ration stamps will not be used, purchases will be indicated by the punching of a distinctive hole in the quota stamp. Only whiskey will be restricted as the tentative plan called for unlimited sales of rum, gin, brandy and wines, wherever the items are available.

Where Is There A Tree On Mill St.?

(By "The Stroller")
"Where is there a tree on Mill street?"
That's the question that was put to me today.

As much as I travel Mill street, I couldn't answer it.
Gene Dugan, police officer, was the questioner, and then he told me this one.

"One morning about two o'clock as I patrolled Mill street one of our residents who had imbibed a little too freely came up to me and said: 'Gene, where is there a tree on Mill street?' I could not answer him. He took me by the arm and escorted me to the store of Edward Wallace and sure enough there I found the only tree that there is on Mill street."

Capacity Crowd Sees Film "This Is The Army"

A capacity crowd attended the premiere of "This Is The Army," given on Armistice eve in the Grand Theatre for the benefit of the Army Emergency Relief. It was sponsored by Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion.

There was an occupant for every available seat in the theatre, a few chairs were placed, and some individuals stood.

Long before the doors of the theatre opened and the few unsold tickets were placed on sale, a queue of people extended from the theatre almost to Pond street. Some were in line as early as 6:20, theatre employees stated.

Many prominent in the affairs of the community attended and the audience was addressed briefly by John Leslie Kilcoyne, Esq., representing the Bracken Post.

Mr. Kilcoyne expressed thanks for the support extended the project, and addressing the audience as "Fellow Americans," said: "You have all proven that you are just that—Fellow Americans—by the splendid support you have given this premiere showing of 'This Is The Army' tonight."

The speaker then explained how the fund which is being built up for the Army Emergency Relief aids dependents of the soldiers. He thanked the committee for the sponsorship given to Bracken Post.

On the stage at the time were grouped the colors and color guards of Bracken Post and the American Legion Cadets; Pvt. Edward Harker, Pfc. Bruce W. Smith, Pfc. Charles S. Robinson, all servicemen of the present global war.

In addition to the picture, "This Is The Army," there was a short film dealing with the National War Fund drive which opens today.

A program was given by the Rohn & Haas Concert Band as the audience assembled, and during the opening of the program.

The Cadets paraded from the Legion Home to the theatre and played selections both outside and inside of the theatre.

EDUCATION'S PART DURING WAR TIME

System Must Help Us to Keep Our Emotional
Stability

IN TIME OF WAR

This is American Education Week and it is noted that education for victory is a vital purpose of the schools today. Winning the war is all important. To this end the schools have converted their programs in accordance with the needs of the armed forces, of industry, and of government.

A series of articles written by Bristol high school students are being published in connection with the observance of American Education Week.

"EDUCATION FOR WARTIME LIVING"

By Vivian Taylor, II-A

Many people living today have experienced three wars during their lifetime. Most of our parents witnessed two, and we, the youth of today, are being educated in the era of a third. We are not responsible for it, we didn't choose it, and we don't want it; but it is here, and we are obligated to do something about it. Many of us are confused by the complexities of wartime living. The educational system of today must help us to keep our emotional stability, and enable us to realize what our abilities are and where they can best be used. Not only high school students but adults and even younger children must be trained for the wartime adjustment necessary to good citizenship.

Most of us are unprepared for the minor inconveniences war entails. If butter isn't to be had, we must manage to get along without it. With little gasoline available, we must learn to walk or use public conveyances. In the present fuel situation, we must accustom ourselves to wearing more clothes or being cold. We may be used to having what we want when we Bristol's quota, a small part of the 125 million dollars to be raised throughout the Nation, will be administered by 17 Government-approved agencies to meet the needs of wartime problems on our home front, for our own servicemen and for our fighting allies.

APPEALS FOR SUPPORT IN WAR FUND DRIVE

Anthony Russo Asks Every Resident of Second
Ward To Help

STRONG APPEAL MADE

Appealing to residents of the second ward of Bristol for their utmost support in the National War Fund campaign, Anthony Russo, chairman of the district, today addressed an open letter to those residing in that ward.

I have been selected as chairman of the National War Fund Drive for the second ward in Bristol, and our quota has been set at $2,240.

We have approximately 670 registered voters in our ward. I realize that several of the registered voters may be from one family, but if every adult gave a day's pay, the amount suggested by the National War Fund Committee as the proper contribution, we will have very little trouble to reach our quota.

But I am afraid that this will not be the case, so therefore we must make it clear to all adult residents of the second ward that this amount should be collected from those who can afford to give.

We are all interested. I hope, in the outcome of our drive—wanting to go over the top by a good substantial amount. I am thinking now of what our boys will think of us if we fail to fulfill our quota, and what effect it will have on them who are now serving in the armed forces of the United States.

In other words, let me put it this way: Suppose you were in the armed forces of the United States, fighting for your freedom and living in foxholes, slime, mud, ducking bullets, shrapnel, torpedoes, and a million other things, and learned that your home town or ward did not back you up in this drive. What effect would it have on your morale? Suppose you were a prisoner in a "Jap" prison camp, or had your eyes gouged out because you would not divulge information that they wanted, or your tongue cut out or any other type of torture inflicted that the Japs are noted for. The boys are giving all they have, their life if necessary, and many of them have and many Wesley Spencer, chairman of district 3, which includes Bristol Borough, Bristol Township, Bensalem Township and Tullytown Borough, stated this morning that every citizen in every home will be asked to contribute to this very important and worthwhile cause.

"USO, for example, will receive almost half of every dollar you give, and this is the one agency that is bringing a 'little bit of home' to our own fighting men on every fighting front," Mr. Spencer pointed out.

"And this is just one of the 17 organizations which will participate in distributing the funds."

Here in the Borough every ward has organized and a very efficient staff will work under their respective ward chairmen. The following are the ward chairmen and their quotas:

First Ward, Harold F. Hunter, $3040. Second Ward, Anthony Russo, $2240. Third Ward, Joseph B. Keating, $1920.

Fourth Ward, Edith R. Harding, $2400. Fifth Ward, Roy Fry, $3040. Sixth Ward, Sam Saire, $3360.

Lester B. Shoemaker is chairman of the drive in Tullytown Borough which has a quota of $670.

Bristol Township is divided into three districts, Upper, Middle and Lower, with L. J. Hutton, David M. Sheerer, Jr., and William Johnston the respective district chairmen. Quotas are: Upper, $1400; Middle, $1000; Lower, $1650.

Richard W. Fechtenburg is the drive chairman in Bensalem Township which has a quota of $4850.

Here is the story of the War Fund, as summed up by one of the committee members: "We can't all fight... we won't all suffer... but we can all give."

Your contribution will help win the war sooner, with a minimum loss of life.

Heavy Air Raids Over Europe

London—Allied bombers and fighters streamed out over the English coast today to pound enemy-held Europe. No bombers were lost in the attack.

The raids, which were carried out in force, according to observers in coastal towns, came close on the heels of a blistering night attack by RAF heavy bombers on the railway center of Modane, southeastern France, vital enemy route to western Europe from north Italy.

Some scope of the extent of the Allied daylight attacks was seen in the sudden lapsing into silence of at least four continental radio transmitters.

By early afternoon, the Calais, Friesland, Hilversum (Holland) and Bremen outlets all were off the air.

Allies Plunge Deeper into Nazis' Outer Winter Defenses

Algiers—The Allied Fifth Army in Italy plunged deeper into outer fortifications of the Nazi winter defense line today and seized several important heights.

Advanced elements of the British Eighth Army in the east meanwhile pushed forward to the Sangro River. The Eighth Army captured Casalanguida, Roccasecca and Rionero.

(Radio Algiers reported that the Fifth Army drive northward between captured Venafro and the Arunci Mountains had resulted in encirclement of Cassino, 16 miles northwest of Calabritto.)

Americans of the Fifth Army stormed and captured Rotondo Mountain, one and one-half miles west of Mignano. The latter base still remained in enemy hands. A mile and one-half southwest of Mignano the Americans drove the Nazis off the southeastern slopes of important heights.

ANNOUNCE ESSAY CONTEST FOR THE SCHOOL CHILDREN

Annual Prize Competition is Sponsored by Colonial
Dames of America

SUBJECT IS GIVEN

National Prizes and Also County Prizes Are Offered

Many of Bucks County school children will compete in the annual prize essay sponsored by the National Society of Colonial Dames of America. The contest is open to grade and high school students.

The subject this year is "The American Heritage—The Things for Which We Are Fighting."

This thesis was chosen to place uppermost in students' minds the gravity of war and the necessity of winning it to preserve the treasures of American liberty.

As one committeeman expressed it:

"Failure to win this war completely would be failure to win it at all. The tragedy of losing would be a tragedy to be borne by generations of young Americans."

"The youth of today is vitally interested in the global conflict which has left its searing brand on civilization. Because of the miracles of modern communication, they know the day by day story of pain and grief that is lashing the world. No boy or girl, with this knowledge of the devastation and cruelty unloosed by power-mad dictators, can help but compare the fate of war-stricken countries with the comparative safety and security we enjoy in this great democracy."

The contest is designed to imprint upon the mind of youth the blessings of American freedom and independence and why the winning of the war is necessary for preservation of the ideals and principles by which this country has become the greatest power on earth.

"The American Heritage" is, in effect, the legacy of free, Constitutional government laid down for us by courageous ancestors who came to these shores to escape the yoke of old world tyranny. What that heritage means to us today is the story which Bucks County students will tell in their own words.

Each year's contest has created much interest and committee members are anticipating a record number of entries this year. The prizes

SUNDAY DINNER

Suggestions

ROASTING chickens and fowl

Forequarter cuts and shoulder roasts of lamb, and a good supply of veal-offer a pleasing choice to the Sunday-shopping housewife. There is not a great deal of pork, either fresh or smoked, and beef is no more plentiful than it has been for the past several weeks.

A good quantity of pears, at moderate prices, is reported by the A & P Food Service for Homemakers.

The supply of both eastern and western apples has been reduced, due to ceiling prices. Florida grapefruit and oranges are now available.

The cranberry crop is less than last year's, but sufficient for the season's needs. There are plenty of Emperor grapes.

The unusual supply of potatoes calls for maximum consumption, and also for storage when possible to avoid spoilage and waste of any of this fall's record-breaking crop.

Southern yams are plentiful and low-priced and vegetables of which there is no lack include white cabbage, yellow turnips, squash, celery, tomatoes, spinach and Florida string beans.

There is plenty of variety in the following Sunday dinner menus.

GRAND THEATRE

The motion picture version of the all-soldier musical, Irving Berlin's "This Is the Army," for Army Emergency Relief, had its premiere at the Grand Theatre yesterday.

The entire company of 350 soldiers, who appeared in the musical on Broadway and during its cross-country tour, appears here with the soldiers in their original roles in the picture, which includes the entire stage production of "This Is the Army" as well as additional material from Irving Berlin's World War I soldier show, "Yip, Yip, Yaphank."

Irving Berlin makes his picture debut in "This Is the Army," singing his famed lament, "Oh How I Love to Get Up in the Morning," as he did in the stage version.

in "salute for three," which co-stars Betty Rhodes and Macdonald Carey and which is at the Ritz Theatre. Dona Drake appears as herself—Dona Drake, leader of an all-girl band. She will be seen in a street suit, a dinner dress and a stage costume of brief black sequined shorts worn with a white sequined blouse.

time was considerably larger than the number exhibited last year. Mrs. Edward Vansant was the presiding officer.

The speaker of the afternoon was Miss Minnie Sellers, of Christ Home, Warminster, who told of the work carried on and the operation of the home entirely on faith.

Miss Sellers informed that the home was founded in 1903 by Dr. Ettinger at 981 N. 5th street, Philadelphia, and in 1907 the home at Warminster was acquired. For their requirements workers and guests rely entirely upon faith, and find their needs wonderfully supplied, she stated. The workers carry out their tasks without remuneration, depending on gifts of clothing, food, etc. In 1936, Miss Sellers added, another home was received by the management, this being located at Paradise, 10 miles east of Lancaster. In the two homes are 295 children, aged folks and workers.

Prayer was offered by Mrs. Frank Simons, retiring president, and minutes were read by Mrs. C. Burnley White, acting secretary. It was reported that there are now 18 directors. Corsages were given to the retiring president, Mrs. Frank Simons, whose number of years given in service as president and vice-president total 38, and to Mrs. Stanley Becker, who served as treasurer for the past 11 years.

Mrs. Henry Michle reported for the White Cross, which group meets to sew twice monthly. The sewers made 336 garments during the past year, and these were turned over to the Needlework Guild. Of this number 243 will be distributed by the Cornwells Branch, and 93 by the Labrador Branch. Miss Isabelle Jones reporting for the latter.

Vocal solos by Mrs. Otto Grupp, Jr., were "Dear Lord, Forgive," and "Not a Sparrow Falteth." The program closed with the Mizpah benediction.

One of 3 Sentences Faces Man Who Pleaded Guilty To Murder of His Wife

Mrs. Harris testified, "I went inside the house and found Mary leaning over on my bed, and Mary said 'take this man off of me' and I saw Hall swing and stab at her once."

The witness, Leo, said, that he never heard of any "actions between Mrs. Hall and another man."

Mrs. Harris testified that she went to the hospital with Marie in Trenton, and that Mrs. Hall died the next day. Mrs. Harris and the murdered woman were cousins.

The Court fixes the degree of murder — first or second — after hearing the testimony. The first degree penalty can be either death in the electric chair or life imprisonment. If the Court fixes second degree murder, the sentence is 20 years imprisonment.

German Railway Bottleneck Believed Blocked; Allies Bomb Heavily

Algiers — The German railway bottleneck through the Brenner Pass into Austria and the Reich from northern Italy was believed completely blocked today as a result of a new heavy raid by American Flying Fortresses on the Bolzano rail yards.

The Fortresses covered the entire target area with heavy bursts. The bombs wrecked the rail approaches, sheds, cars and rolling stock. The lines to Innsbruck, Austria, were cut and numerous bridges in the area were damaged.

Meanwhile, Liberator bombers returned to Villar Perosa to carry out a second consecutive assault on the important ball-bearing plant there. Raf Wellingtons operating at night hit the railway bridge at Reco, east of Genoa.

American bombers fired oil tanks in the harbor of Durazzo, Albania, wrecking eight enemy barges. Other units scored four hits on a 5,000-ton German merchantman at Split, Yugoslavia.

Four Nazi planes were destroyed in all operations while two Allied craft were reported missing.

Lend-Lease Now Flows In Two Directions

London — Lend-lease has ceased to flow in one direction only — from the United States to Europe — but now flows toward America as well and has become not lend-lease but "mutual aid," Sir John Anderson, Chancellor of the Exchequer, stated today.

Discussing the British white paper, "A Report On Mutual Aid" which was submitted today to Parliament, Sir John declared that Britain and the Empire are "now furnishing huge supplies without payment, and indeed without calculation," to the United States, to Russia and the other allies. He added "the vast extent of which is not understood in this country, far less abroad."

Thousands of Pa. Coal Miners Cause Work Stoppage

Pittsburgh — Thousands of western Pennsylvania coal miners staged a holiday work stoppage today, protesting the Government's failure to grant an overtime rate for Armistice Day operations.

The miners demanded time and a half pay. At least 21 pits were reported idle, involving more than 10,500 men.

Some operators doubted that full operations could be resumed before Monday, if the miners decide to make it a full week-end layoff.

por Hirohito saw fit to confer with the commander-in-chief of the Jap fleet, Mineichi Koga, and then appeal for further efforts by members of the enemy naval forces in the Solomons. The Office of War Information said the Tokyo radio told of the meeting and quoted the Emperor as saying that the "war situation (in the Solomons) had increased its intensity."

Further worsening of the Jap positions in the Pacific was predicted by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commanding the U. S. Pacific Fleet, at Pearl Harbor, who served notice on the Nips that new offensive operations will be launched by America in the immediate future and said that the United States now has "the means to . . . blast the Jap out of his island strongholds."

In Italy, according to unconfirmed reports by the Nazi-controlled Rome radio, the American Fifth Army penetrated German defense lines at several points in new assaults along the upper reaches of the Volturno River. The British Eighth Army was said by the Algiers radio to have completely isolated the Nazi operational base at Agnone.

Furious counter-assaults were unleashed by the German high command in an effort to stymie the Allied drive to liberate Rome, but the Anglo-American forces pressed ahead despite the added handicap of extremely bad weather.

Russian troops also drove forward, fanning out from Kiev to come within 32 miles of the Korosten-Zhitomir railway, last important north-south rail line east of the Polish border. After storming the Teteriv River, the Red army seized Ivanov and also captured Grebenki.

Other Red army units improved their positions on the Crimean Peninsula, beating off fierce enemy counterattacks northwest and south of Kerch. Strong Nazi counterdrives around Nevel also failed as the Soviets advanced.

ITALIAN PRISONERS OF WAR HOPE FOR SPEEDY RELEASE

Men in Ohio's Detention Camp, Subject to Washington Ruling, Mostly Used For Farm Labor

By Carli Turner

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

CAMP PERRY, O., Nov. 11.—(INS)—On the southern shores of Lake Erie in Ohio's newly-established prisoner-of-war camp, a large group of Italian soldiers, sailors and marines is puzzled by the recent turn of events.

They were captured in the European theater before Italy surrendered unconditionally. They had been in Ohio's first P-W camp but a short time when they learned that Italy had declared war on Germany and had been accepted by the United Nations as a co-belligerent.

"So the question in their minds is why don't we release them," explained Maj. E. C. McCormick, Jr., commanding officer, as he conducted news and radio men on an inspection tour of the camp.

"The War Department says that we are to continue to treat them as prisoners of war until further notice," he said. "We explain to them that all of their rights under international law are being respected."

Some of the Italian prisoners want to be released so they can fight at the side of the Anglo-American forces in driving the Nazis from their homeland. This is true especially of those who have been in this country longer and know something of the American way of living. Maj. McCormick added.

For the most part, the Italian prisoners at Camp Perry are friendly toward the Americans with whom they come into contact. Many of them, through sign language, invited us into their hutments, as the army calls their living quarters. Obviously they were pleased by our admiration of the neatness and cleanliness of their abodes.

The visitor is struck by the smallness of stature of these Italian prisoners. Though most are of splendid physique, their average height is only about 5 feet 4 inches. Many proudly wear closely cropped black beards.

There are no Italian officers at Camp Perry, only non-coms and enlisted men. They were brought here primarily because of a labor shortage in the adjacent farming district.

Enlisted men are required to work. Non-commissioned officers need not, but they may volunteer and Maj. McCormick said most of them do. When idle they are paid 10 cents a day; when they work, 80 cents. Credit slips are given for wages and these can be used at the P-Ws own canteen where cigarettes, toilet articles, etc., are available at the same prices American troops pay.

Already a number of calls for farm workers have been received, Maj. McCormick said. Prisoners are available for farm labor at about 42 cents an hour to northwestern Ohio farmers. The minimum is five men, who are accompanied to the job by an American guard.

All the prisoners earn above their own 80 cents a day goes to the government to help defray the cost of the internment camps.

Except for American soldiers who patrol the stockades, the army leaves as much as possible of the governing of the prisoners to themselves. Those at Camp Perry are divided into four companies, with their own officers who maintain discipline.

Each company has its own mess. Food is ordered and prepared by Italian mess officers and chefs un-

Will this always be Greek to you?

NOT a pretty picture, is it? Kind of horrible. However, it's only a picture. A photograph, smuggled out of Greece.

Can you imagine what it would be like to see such a child face to face? How you'd feel if it were a boy or girl of yours?

But, of course, it isn't. It's just some child in faraway Greece.

Will this always be Greek to you?

Today that child is the child of your next-door neighbor. Not only because distance was this war's first casualty, but because the people of Greece and Yugoslavia and Poland and Belgium and Norway are all our allies in this war against the Axis. They're still fighting everywhere in the so-called "conquered" countries. With sabotage. With slow-downs. With anything they can think of to hinder the Nazis and the Japs. They're keeping Axis soldiers from where they might be used against us.

This year all Humanity needs your help more than ever before. That's why 17 war relief agencies have banded together as the National War Fund. That's why it has joined forces with the local agencies here in our own community.

...to help our valiant allies with food to feed them, clothes to clothe them, medical supplies to heal their wounds.

...to aid the needy and distressed here at home, to help keep the home front strong—to help take care of the many dislocations in family life caused by the war.

...to help provide all those big and little things that mean so much to the men in our armed forces—a cup of coffee when nothing could possibly taste so good; a place to go when a guy feels lonely; a helping hand where he needs it in some far-off place.

This year you'll be asked to give only once for all the agencies listed below. So before you decide how much to give, add up all that you would have given ordinarily. Then, double the total. It's one of the most important contributions you can make to victory!

TOY HEAVEN! Why not take the children to see the fascinating Snellenburg Toy Dept. (4th fl.) before the holiday crowding? It's a grand place, with the most amiable Santa Claus I've met in years! The children adore him. The newest toys are all there, including constructive ones for the older boys and girls. 1943 chemical sets, for example, begin at $1. Others at $2, $3.50, $5, and $10.

JUST THE THING for gifting, or your own guest room, are the quaint Victorian type dressing-table and somewhat larger bedroom table or hall lamps at, respectively, $5.95 and $12.95 each. They are designed like oil lamps, in china-white glass covered with roses. You'll be just as enchanted as I over them. I do hope you succeed in getting one or two. The Snellenburg Lamp Dept., where you can find them, is patronized by interior decorators for miles around. Its lamps are so reasonably priced and so unusual. (4th fl.)

A MAGIC TAPE for plugging open cracks to keep Jack Frost out is made of pliable plastic. It's as much fun to monkey with as the clay on a kindergarten table! It comes by the yard, by golly, and it's clean and non-sticky to work with. Its manufacturers say that it has "hundreds of uses." I can well believe it. Use it for windows, sink cracks, around bathtubs—any place that needs plugging. Stays pliable and can even be removed and replaced for window cleaning. Lengths and lengths of it for only $1.25. I'm buying some for a friend's little wind-blown parsonage Down East! Snellenburgs. (3rd fl. Housewares Dept.)

HOW THEY HELP! Those pretty little "booties" and lingerie cabinets that keep our footwear, clothes and feminine gadgets in order. They'll eke out closet and add to bureau-drawer space or they'll make the grandest sewing cabinets imaginable. Those in the Snellenburg Notions Dept. will make highly acceptable Xmas gifts this year, covered as they are with either bright chintzes or gay wallpapers. One model will hold 6 pairs of shoes, a hat or two (lingerie if you like) and stockings. Comes in two generous sizes priced at $3.98 and $4.98. A larger-drawered "chest" to supplement bureau space can be had in chintz upholstery at $1.98. I hope some friend sees this and gives me one come Yuletide! (1st fl.)

der the supervision of American officers. The ration allowance per day for each prisoner of war is exactly the same as for an American soldier.

Tastes of American and Italian soldiers differ greatly. Bread is truly the staff of life for the Italians. They eat 2½ pounds per day, while the American soldier is satisfied with 20 ounces. Maj. McCormick explained.

So the war prisoners get all the bread they want—and they don't like it sliced. They disdain butter as a bread spread and use all of their butter allowance in cooking. They are fond of fish, often ordering it on several consecutive days.

They are fond of coffee, too, but not as we know it. Coffee "soup" is served once a day, at breakfast. It consists of coffee, sugar and milk in about equal parts, into which goes ample portions of bread. Cheese, fruits, and, of course, spaghetti, also are favorites.

Thus far the Italian prisoners have had no wine, but as soon as their canteen can procure it, they will be permitted to buy one pint daily; also one quart of beer.

Though they are thousands of miles from home in a strange land, their morale is high, aided no doubt by their fondness for singing. Their favorite tune, incidentally, is called "Rosamunda" by them but is instantly recognizable as the "Beer Barrel Polka."

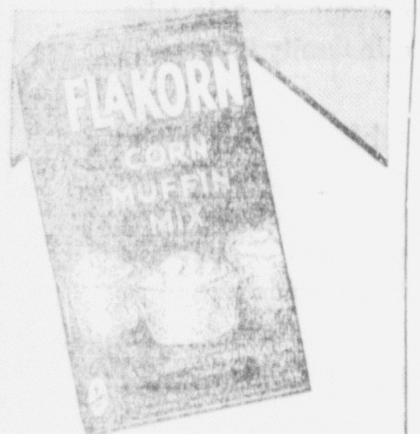

"Ninety-nine per cent of them are religious," said Lieut. Julius Valentini, their chaplain. He conducts three masses on Sunday and one each week day in a chapel within the compound.

Father Valentini, a native of Volcan, Mich., and for 12 years pastor of an Italian parish in Milford, Mass., has organized a choir of 60 voices and has appealed to the public to donate musical instruments of all kinds for a band.

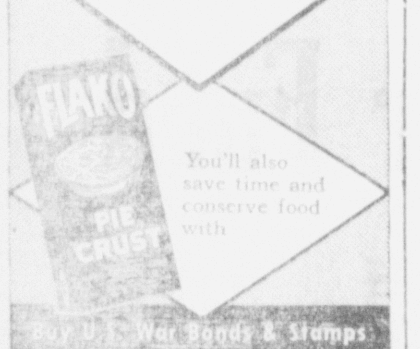

Treatment accorded the prisoners is firm, but fair. They are housed, for example, five men in individual beds, in buildings formerly used by American inductees before the Camp Perry reception center was discontinued.

This is their day: 5:30 a. m.—first call; 6 a. m.—reveille; 6:05 a. m.—mass; 6:45 a. m.—assemble for work; 12:45 p. m.—lunch; 3:45 p. m.—return to camp; 5 p. m.—retreat; 5:05 p. m.—mess; 9 p. m.—call to quarters; 10 p. m.—lights out.

Prisoners working away from camp return at 4:45 p. m.

FOR WAR DAYS, Flakorn saves time and avoids waste because it contains all the needed dry ingredients, in exact amount for 12 to 18 corn muffins. If your grocer hasn't Flakorn (or Flak) today, check with him again tomorrow.

Art of Glamorizing Cream Sauce Gives Variety To Vegetable Dishes

There's no need for short butter rations to curtail the family's enjoyment of vegetables, if you'll take your cue from the chefs and utilize butter-stretching sauces. A slice or two of bacon, cooked crisp and chopped, gives a glamour touch to a plain white sauce for a vegetable course. The addition of several tablespoons of grated cheese is an easy-to-copy trick that adds eye appeal.

Quick-frozen vegetables are a good choice for creamed dishes, for they can be counted on for firm, fresh flavor and an extra quota of vitamins and minerals, and they cook in half the time of other vegetables. They are all ready to pop into boiling water the minute they come from their cartons, because all tasks of preparation were done before quick-freezing.

Creamed Eggs and Vegetables
1 (10 oz.) package quick-frozen peas, beans, or other vegetables

4 hard-cooked eggs, shelled and cut in cubes
4 tablespoons butter or other shortening
2 tablespoons minced onion
3 tablespoons flour
1½ cups milk
¼ cup vegetable liquor or vegetable liquor and milk
Salt and pepper to taste

Cook quick-frozen vegetables according to directions on box. While they are cooking, melt butter in saucepan. Add onion and flour and stir to a paste. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook gently 2 minutes, or until thickened, stirring constantly. Measure liquor drained from cooked vegetables, adding milk, if necessary to make up the amount. Add to white sauce and blend. Season with salt and pepper. Mix lightly with drained vegetables and eggs. Reheat and serve. Serves 4 to 6.

Creamed Green Beans and Onions
1 box (10 oz.) quick-frozen green beans
1 cup boiling water, salted
1½ cups bean liquor and milk
8 small white onions
2 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Drop frozen green beans into briskly boiling salted water. Bring again to a boil, and boil 8 to 12 minutes, or until just tender. Drain, reserving liquor; add milk to make 1½ cups. Cook onions in boiling salted water 20 minutes, or until tender. Drain. Melt butter in saucepan, add flour, and stir until smooth. Add bean liquor and milk gradually and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add salt, pepper, beans, and onions, and heat. Serves 4.

PIQUANT SALAD DRESSING

1 cup mayonnaise or cooked salad dressing
1 cup cranberries chopped fine
Combine salad dressing and cranberries. Serve with fruit salads.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Conserve Electricity

Uncle Sam urges every patriotic American to avoid wasting electricity. Each little bit that you save, multiplied by thousands of others, will be an important contribution to the nationwide, Voluntary Conservation Program.

Fuel, transportation, vital materials and manpower are needed in the production of electricity. These are also essential to the war effort. So, when we conserve electricity, we are making more fuel, more freight cars and more men available for war work.

Let this be your slogan—Use all the electricity you really need but need all you use!

SOYBEANS REALLY HAVE THAT DESIRED EXTRA SOMETHING

By Mary E. Jacoby
(Home Economics Representative)

Soybeans have played an important role in the human diet in foreign countries for many years but are fairly recent to our tables.

Soybeans are good muscle builders—even better than other beans. Their proteins are as complete as those of meat and fish. They are high in minerals, calcium, phosphorus and iron. They are low in starch. Overweight—attention! The green soybeans are very rich in vitamin "A" while both green and dried are good sources of the vitamin "B" family.

Soybeans are rather nutty in flavor, are hearty, are prepared and used in the same way as any dried beans or peas. The green beans resemble fresh peas in appearance and flavor. When cooked they retain their original shape.

Soybeans have many uses: Soybean sprouts—tender and full of vitamin "C" are an interesting addition to many dishes and so different.

The green beans offer a change from other beans.
The dried beans go well into soups, casseroles and baked dishes.

Soybean flour mixed with wheat flour gives baked products a wonderful nut-like flavor.
Soybean grits—flour but coarse.

TRENTON CATHOLIC ELEVEN PREPARES FOR MORRISVILLE

Trenton Coach Makes Several Shifts in His Players

GAME ON SATURDAY

Bulldogs Are Ready For Rivals From Across The River

MORRISVILLE, Nov. 11—Trenton Catholic high school eleven will play the Bulldogs here Saturday afternoon.

Coach Warwick, of Trenton, has moved Ernie Mitrosky, a second string tackle to end for added defensive power. Ernie is a steady defensive man and the coach has hopes of turning him into a fine pass receiver. Another switch involves former right halfback Joe Tylius who now operates from the halfback position on the other side. This move was no doubt made to make room for Sophomore Jim "Lefty" Mohr, and also to give Tylius a better chance to display his abilities as a runner, passer and kicker. Joe also is a smart signal-caller and bids fair to replace Pat Scully at that job in the Wave starting lineup Saturday.

Mohr is a mite-sized boy playing his first year of varsity ball. "Lefty," as he is known, works exactly as his nickname implies. He passes from the south side as well as kicking with that foot. He is also a good breakaway runner, sneaking through for an occasional lengthy gain, and is serving as understudy to Tylius and Scully in signal calling duties.

Another second stringer who looked very good in the Farm game was blocking back Tom Peters. Tom has been working in back of the dependable Jack Sullivan at the unglorified post all season, but has shown flashes of brilliance in the replacing action. Both lads are in a great deal responsible for some of the long gains ripped off by the other Blue and Gold clad backs thus far this season.

want it, but we just don't get it now.

The high schools of our country have adapted their program to help meet the needs of the wartime graduate. More stress is being placed on the value of physical education. Special courses such as aerobics, shop for girls, home nursing and first aid are being taught. It has been made possible for students to work part time and still have the advantage of obtaining a high school education. The government recognizes the value of the training given in our high schools and is allowing most boys of eighteen, who have nearly completed their courses, to continue until graduation.

The high schools are encouraging the sale of bonds and stamps; and almost all the schools have given invaluable aid to the government by assisting in the registrations for our various ration books. The children of the elementary grades are by no means left out of this vast program. They learn the give and take of democratic citizenship both in the classroom and on the playground. The sale of bonds and stamps is turned into an interesting game and spurred on by competition among the different rooms or classes. They assist greatly in the collection of scrap materials needed by the government.

The public schools alone could not be responsible for all wartime education. It is carried on through newspapers, Red Cross, first aid groups, local air raid officials, and various other persons or agencies. Specific information regarding all these agencies, should be made available to everyone. In wartime the Red Cross is one of the most potent and active organizations. Its location, schedule, and various activities should be common knowledge to all members of a community. Everyone should also be familiar with the air raid signals and regulations of his community. The newspapers make it a point to keep their information about rationing clear and up-to-date. Women and girls who can spare a few hours a day from their other tasks are encouraged to volunteer their services as nurses' aides. All those who are physically able ought to help save the lives of those Americans doing the actual fighting for us by donating some of their blood to any blood bank. Whole-hearted response should be given to salvage drives and war bond campaigns. Much has been accomplished in all these directions, but if everyone really understood and fulfilled his duties, or seized some of these opportunities for wartime service, the results would be almost miraculous.

Though frequently ignored, the church is one of the most important organizations in training both youth and adults for wartime living. We must be prepared for the nervous strain of being separated from fathers, brothers, sisters, friends; for the anxiety of long weeks without letters or contact; for the shock of a possible, "We regret to inform you . . ." This is the function of the church.

The young people today need the wisest counsel of all wartime and peacetime agencies to enable them to take their place in a warring world. If they are sufficiently well informed, they can be depended upon not to fail America in the present emergency. The mistakes of those who made the peace after the last war need not be repeated. Proper education can and will make this "a war to end all wars."

HORSE HITS AUTO

BELLEFONTAINE, O.—(INS)—The old adage of "It's news when a man bites a dog," found a rival in Bellefontaine recently. This time it was "Horse hits automobile." The horse and wagon of Truman Galloway, while being driven down a steep Bellefontaine street, got out of control. The wagon struck a parked car. Result—auto badly damaged, horse and driver uninjured.

BIG ENROLLMENT

CHICAGO—(INS)—A total of 1425 persons have enrolled for the new 15-week series of 28 free war courses given by the Illinois Institute of Technology. When 652 persons completed the previous 15 weeks of free instruction it brought to 3453 the number of men and women who have been trained in the institution's free radio war training program alone.

CAMP CROWDER, Mo.—(INS)—Company Clerk Jack Mamafy conceived the idea as a progressive move in public relations. And now he's being widely congratulated by the men of Co. B, 809th Signal Training Regiment of the Central Signal Corps School here, on his recent addition to the regulations governing this company: Before any man can "ship out," he must give the name, address and phone number of his two most recent steadies.
